

This diagram depicts the structure of a recently prototyped webapp where the user creates a soundscape from pre-edited audio clips by interacting with dynamic word clouds on the webpage. Mousing over a word triggers a sound that has been given a title including that word to play back (through a random speaker in a multichannel system, for sponsor week ☺).

bbliska@mit.edu

